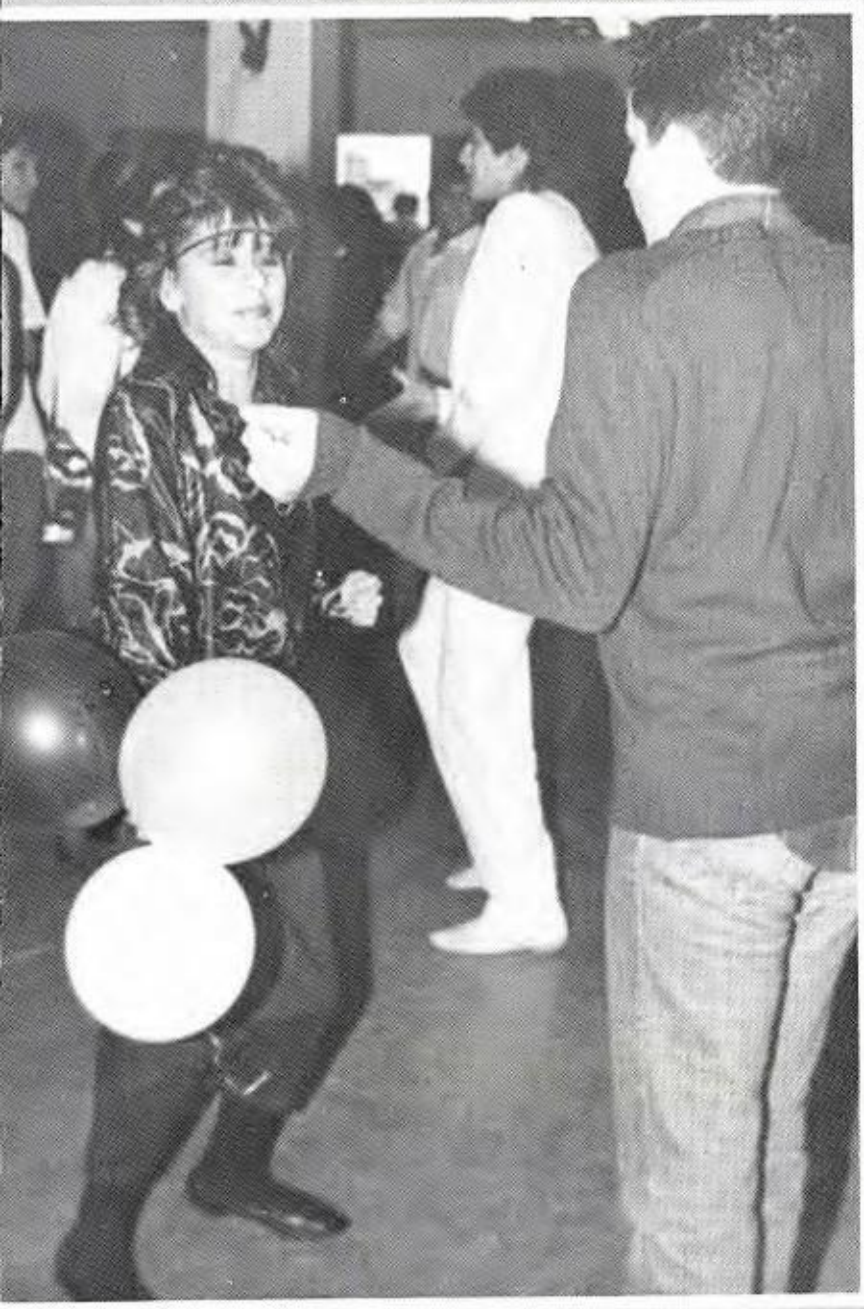
RETROSPECT



STYLE We Have

FROM CAPTIVES TO CAPTIVE FANS

The month of September was busy with headlining activities such as Moscow's capture of hostages, the Twilight Zone trial, and the fight with drugs. Crack and Cocaine were becoming essentially known at this time.

Locally, new programs were being aired. A few in particular were: Pee-Wee's Playhouse, Alf, Cavanaughs, Starman, Head of the Class, and the ever popular The Late Show with Joan Rivers.

On Campus, pep rallies were the most inspiring, lifting spirits and encouraging them to attend the games. At this time fans showed support and players tried their best.

Top to Bottom: Anna Diaz, Leticia Mendiola, Lucy Sanchez, Yvonne Valdez, Nelda Lozan, Rosemary Quintero, Ginger Martinez, and Ilene Reyna.

"See, Lorenzo, I told you these fans would finally come around and give us something good," explains Jaime Navarro.

Above: "A contender for the body perfect award?" questions Jaime Navarro.

Center: Fans get very excited when it comes to the introduction of the players.

Bottom: Football players treasure the moment when the girls soccer team give them goodies.

SEPTEMBER

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS INVADE

October was a month filled with anticipation and a desire to succeed as the nation anxiously awaited the outcome of the Summit Conference between President Reagan and Gorbachev of Russia. The eyes of the world were turned to Iceland, a land rarely in the limelight, where the meeting took place.

Halloween on campus this year proved to be goulish and gastly, putting everyone in a festive spirit.

People were dressed in all types of costumes. They appeared in everything from clowns to witches, and no one could tell the difference between the boys and girls.

Kennedy has always had a reputation for having lots of spirit and good will, and they certainly demonstrated it at the Halloween Dance. As always, it proved to be a success.

"Up, up and away!" cackles Mrs. Dunn as she demonstrates her broom riding techniques.

Jaime"Payaso" Navarro agrees that Jaime "Ostrich" Chavez has the best disguise.

"When I'm bad, I'm bad. And when I'm good, . . .?" exclaims Rachel Gonzales.

RALLIES

During the first week of November, President Regan was having his own spirit week to encourage people to elect Republicans into the House of Representatives. The race was truly a hot one almost mirroring the atmosphere here on campus.

Spirit Week on campus was a sight to see. We had it all, starting with sloppy day, and ending with green and white day. Everyone was ready and eager to participate in all the activities scheduled for that week. It was a week of clean fun and relaxation.

The week's activities ended with a bang of a pep rally. Cheerleaders, the band, and the fans gave the football team a great sendoff thet motivated them to play another great game.

HOMECOMING EXTRAVAGANZA

The 1986 Homecoming proved to be a spectacular display of fifteen glitterfully dressed participants, their escorts, and an evening to remember. Indeed the glamour of the past years has continued. Each year seems to be more elaborate than the next.

Homecoming stems from a celebration originally proposed to serve as a gathering of alumni, allowing them an opportunity to renew old friendships. Set during the football season, this ceremony was meant to bring beauty to the field of the "beast".

November 7, marked the day of this special event. Following tradition, a reception honoring the Homecoming Queen candidates was held in the school library. Though that night Kennedy lost to Alamo Heights by a score of 36 to 8, the spirits of the students remained charged.

This year's contestants were: Sandra Casarez, Cecilia Chavez, Ana De La Vega, Anna Diaz, Terry Galdeano, Jeanette Garcia, Rosario Garcia, Denise Gutierrez, Minerva Hinojosa, Nelda Lozano, Tammy Morales, Jeannie Mũnoz, Sandra Salinas, Sandra Santellan, and Sandra Rodriguez.

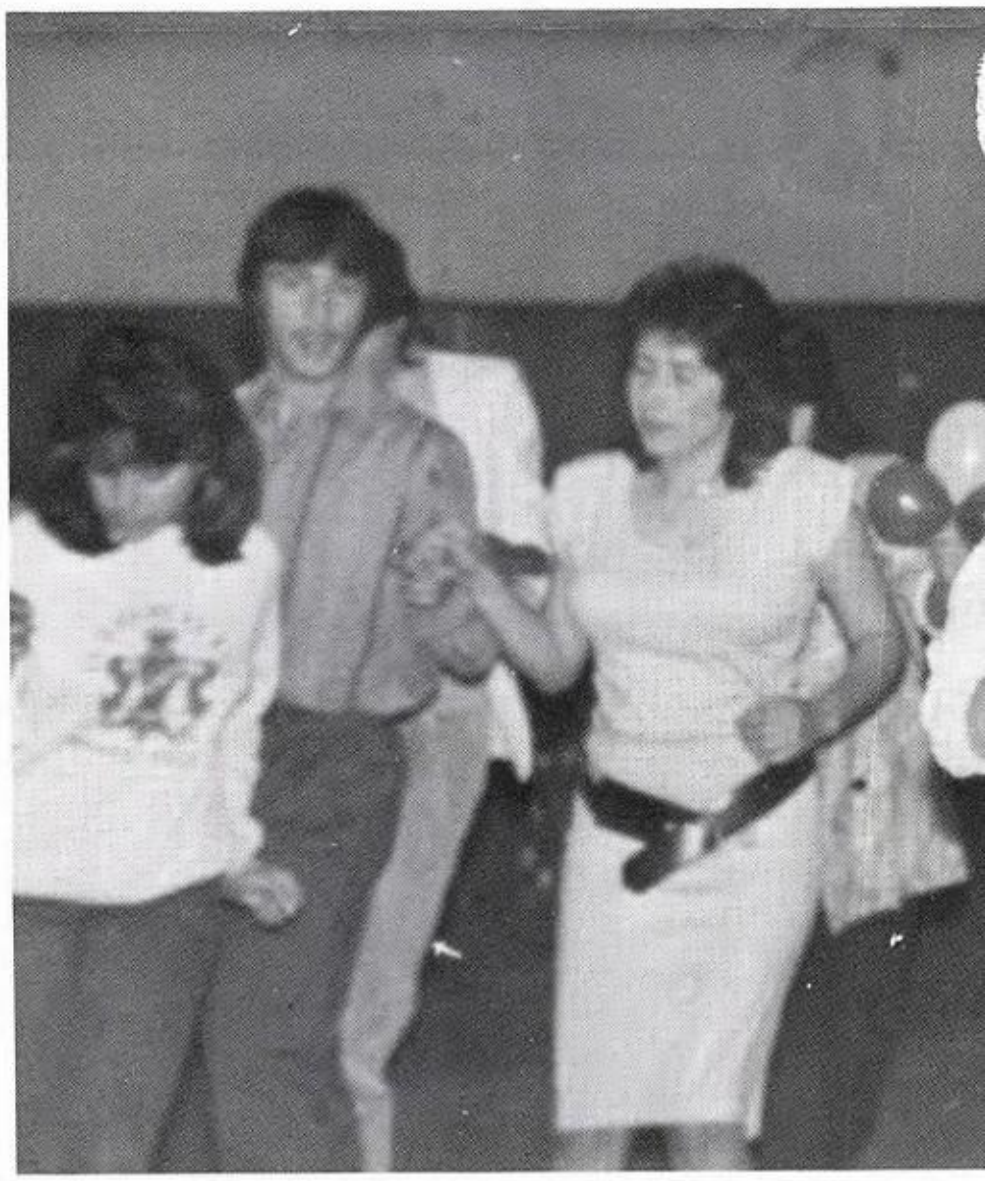
DECEMBER

The Christmas season around the country proved to be a dramatic time. On the local front, our city received national coverage with the airing on TV of the Perry Como Show. The yearly event was filmed in San Antonio and featured many of our historical sites. Joining Perry Como on the show were film star Angie Dickinson and singer George Strait. Even our illustrious Mayor Henry Cisneros, dressed as Santa, took an unrehearsed dip in the river.

Christmas being a time to celebrate, was precisely what Kennedy students did. On campus, the seasonal spirit was evident in the various activities. The Christmas dance, sponsored by the Seniors, had a pretty good turn out and Santa Claus remained popular as a photo companion.

Seniors shared their Christmas spirit and showed their appreciation by sponsoring the faculty Christmas dinner. Teachers were served a delicious meal which was a definite deviation from their usual brown bag. The end of the meal consisted of tastetempting desserts.

Of course, let's not forget about Santa Claus. There were plenty of Santa Clauses around and elves to help spread the cheer during the day.



CHRISTMAS, SANTA

Above right: "And the guys thought I couldn't get a date for the dance," replies Lorenzo Villareal.

Below: "The Christmas season is almost over and I'll have to start my diet again," ponders Ms. Valdez.

Oh Christmas tree, oh Christmas tree how lovely are your branches.

TRADITIONS CONTINUE

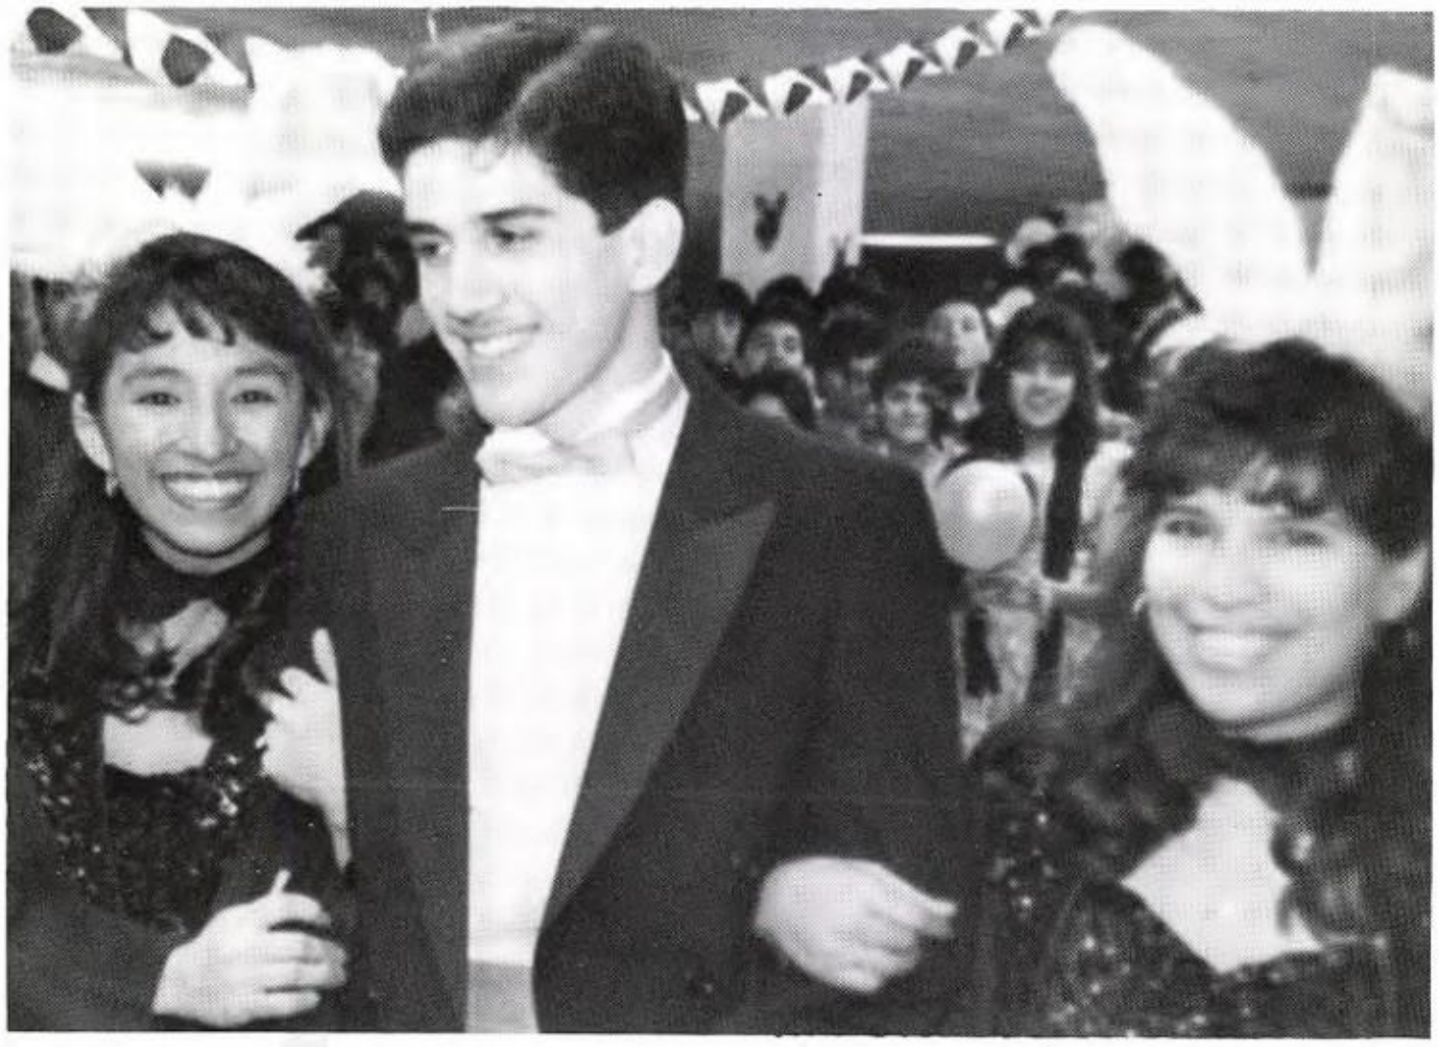
"Who says I'm too old to sit on Santa's lap? He's not complaining, is he?" asks Laura Montalvo.

"Hey, what about me? Don't I get a piece of pie also?" asks Mrs. Zacharie.

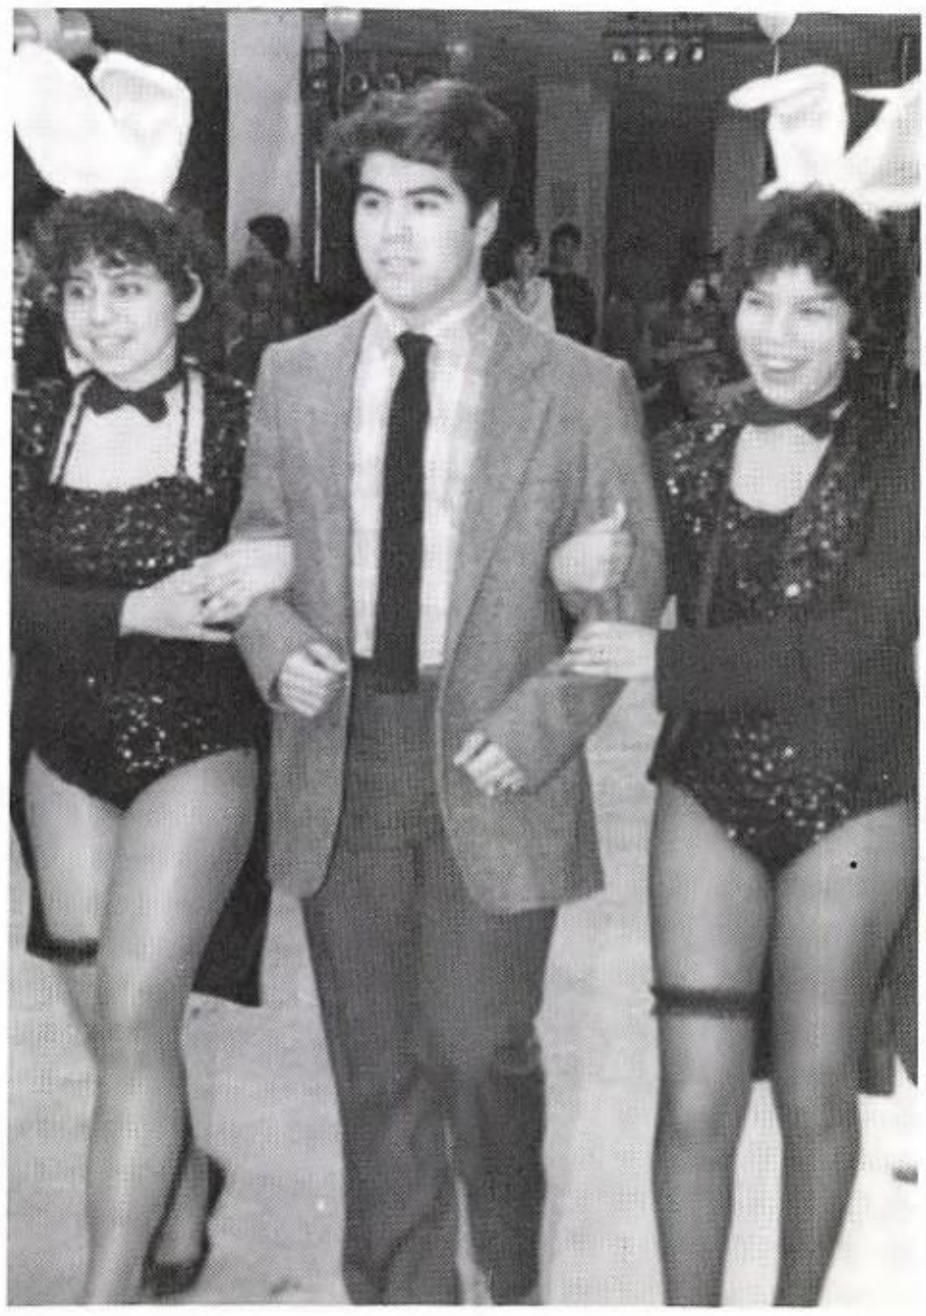
SECOND WIN FOR PLAYBOY

January proved to be a month that held a somber tone for America as it marked the first Anniversary of the Challenger space shuttle disaster. In San Antonio the search for missing high school student Debby Moberg continued. The search continued for weeks with no result.

At Kennedy, all eyes were focused on the selection of this year's Playboy. The decision was a landslide victory for Temoc Valencia who won for the second year in a row. The event took place on the twenty-third of January in the lower ballroom. The dance was sponsored by the juniors, and proved to be an overwhelming success. Everyone seemed to have had a spectacular time as they were entertained by the music of Sphynx.



Lucy Sanchez feels Cuatemoc Valencia is a sure thing.



Albert Salinas, after putting up a good fight, surrenders to bunnies, Xanthia Garza and Melinda Benitez.

"What is this I hear about rabbits multiplying?" questions Fernando Rios.

Gilbert wonders why HE wasn't nominated.

Cualtemoc Valencia proudly displays trophys for playboy of the Senior Class and for Ultimate Playboy; a title which he's won the second year in a row.

JANUARY

1987 VALENTINE SWEETHEARTS

February was an exciting month, to say the least. Residents all over the country debated over the controversial film "Amerika," aired nationwide for an entire week. The Grammy Awards were presented bringing surprise winners, and three of our students won their Golden Gloves Boxing matches.

On campus, the annual Sweetheart Dance once again proved to be very successful. The event sponsored by the Junior Class took place on February the 13th in the lower ballroom. Winner of the 1987 Sweetheart title was Mirna Montalvo. Junior Xochitl Valencia was elected princess, and duchesses were Sophomore Terry Galdeano and Freshman Jessica Torres.

Senior Sweetheart for 1987 Mirna Montalvo is escorted by John Garza.

Sandra Gutierrez, Josie Medina and Jose Sierra debate over who will be the next Sweetheart winner.

Terry Galdeano is honored as dutchess by last year's sweetheart, Karen Montañez.

"Today Kennedy Sweetheart, tomorrow Miss. Universe!" exclaims Xanthia Garza to Joe Rodriguez.

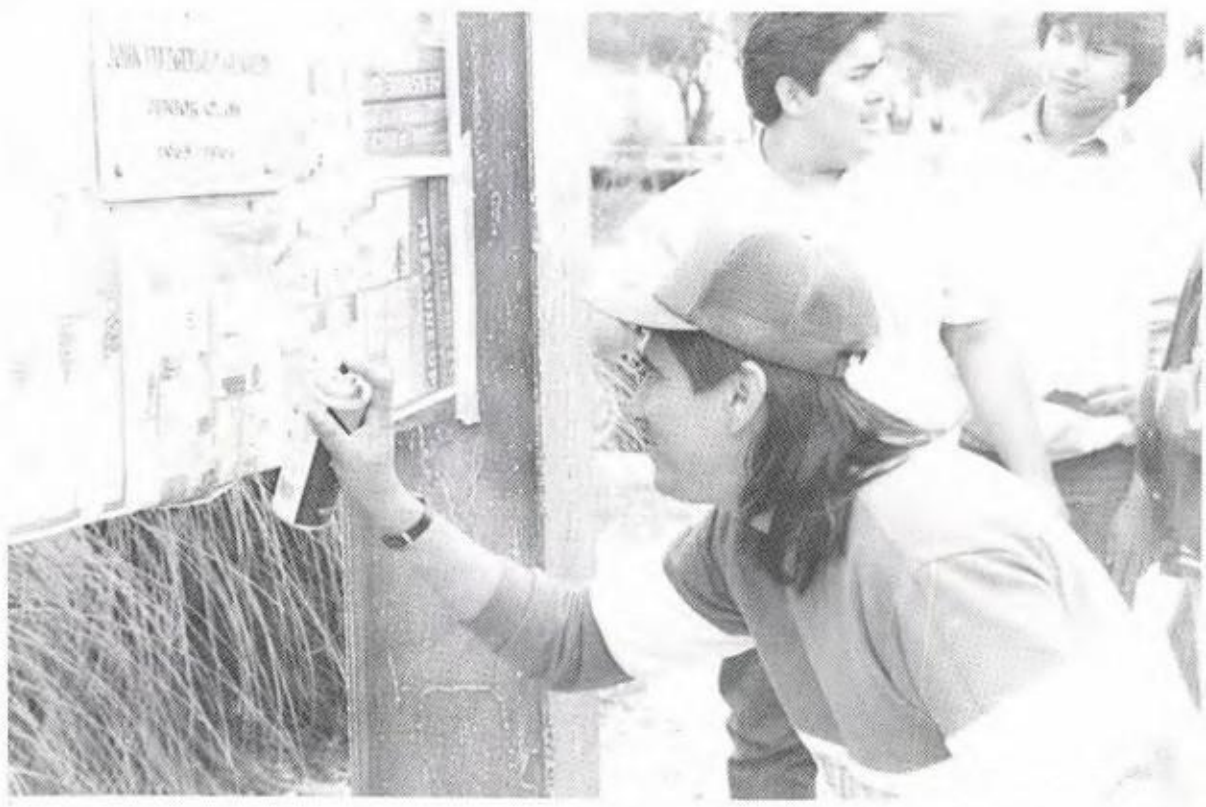
GRAND OPENING BENEFITS JFK

"We deserve a break today," the famous hamburger slogan all over America; became the school's most repeated phrase. But the wording had been changed to "we got a break today." The reason for this was soon evident to all as the story behind it unfolded.

For years, the tall grassy field across the street from the campus had been looked upon as an eye sore. Then in December, things began to happen. Pretty soon it was evident that a new business would open its doors in this area. The question was, which one?

Well, it wasn't too much longer before the famous golden arches made their appearance high above the thoroughfare. And along with them came someone who would play an important roll in life at J.F.K, Mr. Richard Acosta. On March 7, the Grand Opening of McDonald's was held and Kennedy students, administrators, and friends were present at the ceremonies where a pledge was made to the school. Mr. Acosta committed himself to helping the school in anyway he could. And to seal his promise, he immediately agreed to provide funds for the restoration of the rocket on the front campus.

The project was undertaken with the help and participation of various groups on campus. Work on the restoration of the school's mascot continued through the summer months. The students look forward to the new look that will greet them in the fall. Thanks Mr. Acosta!



Top: "If you only knew what a Mc.Donald's burger had done for my body!" exclaims Mr. Cisneros.

Center: "Look, hand me that clarinet and I'll show you how to play it," says the Mayor to Yvonne Morales.

Bottom: "Look, just give the guy some credit for trying," advises Roland Robles.

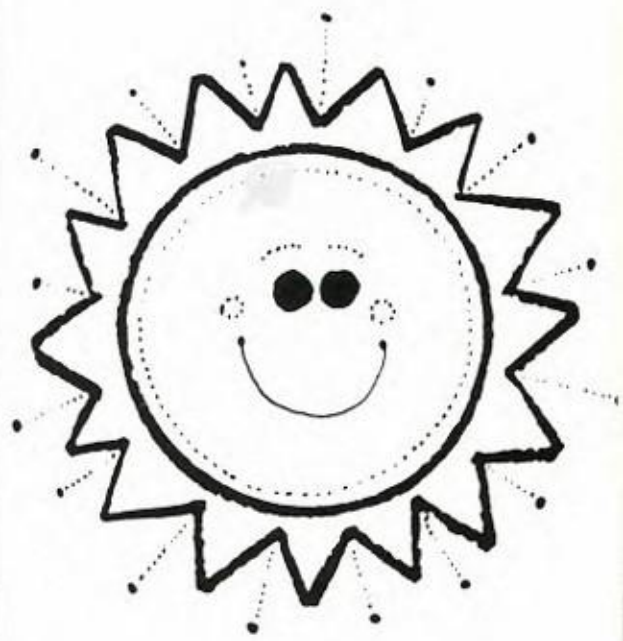
Top: "Honestly speaking, McDonald's was my first job before I went on to be mayor," affirms the mayor.

Center: Students work on restoring the rocket.

Bottom Left: Michelle Mason demonstrates her flute techniques by playing a solo.



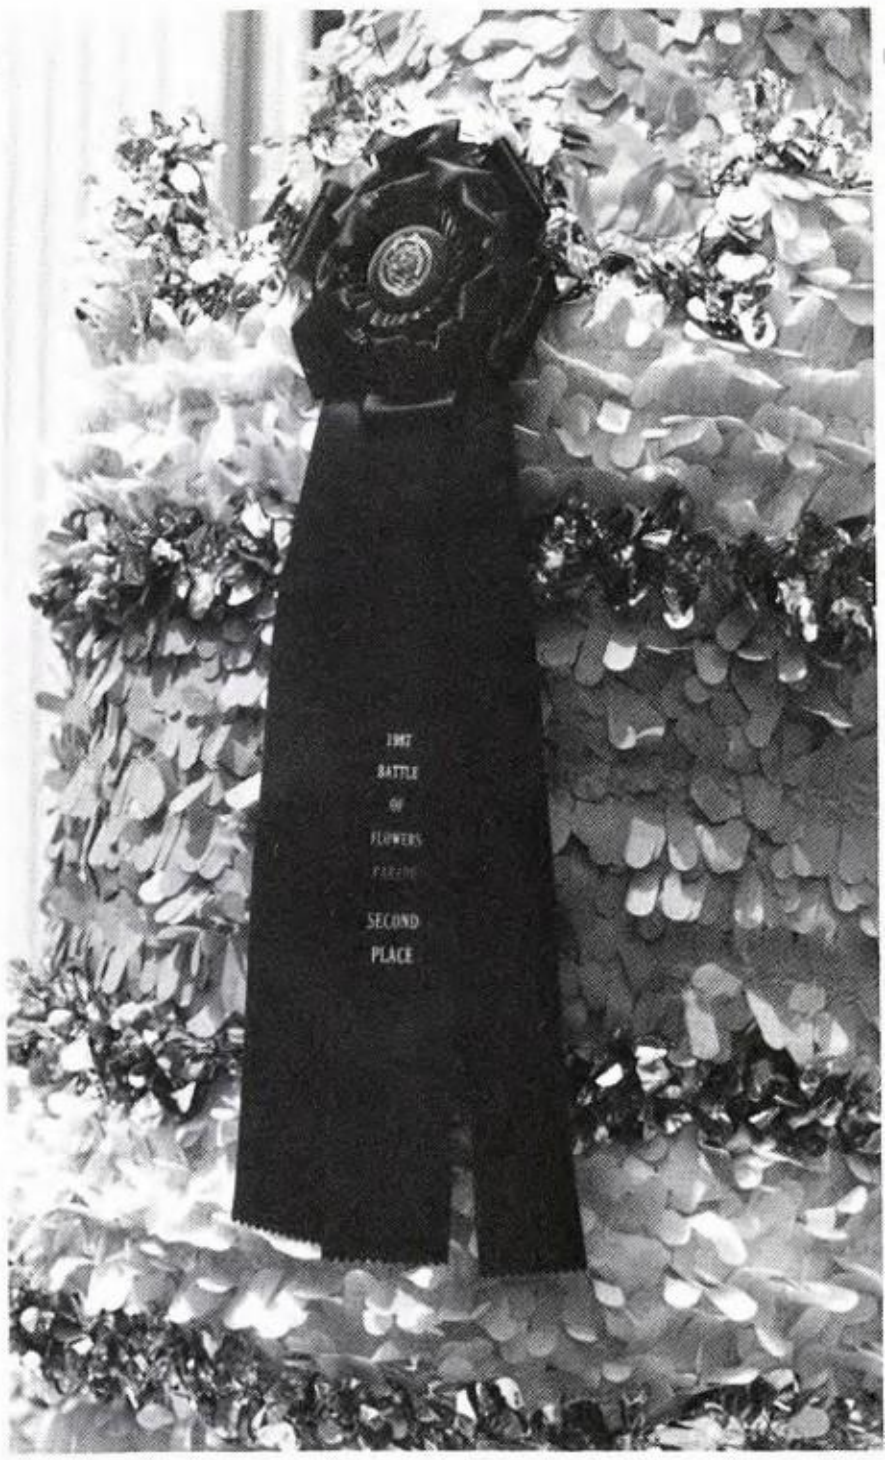
John F. Kennedy High School wins 2nd place in the Public Schools Division.

April was a month for national intrigue and local victory. Nationally, two Marines were indicted for espionage in Moscow. It was believed that they sold American secrets to the Russians.

On the local front, Henry Cisneros was elected mayor once again and won by a landslide.

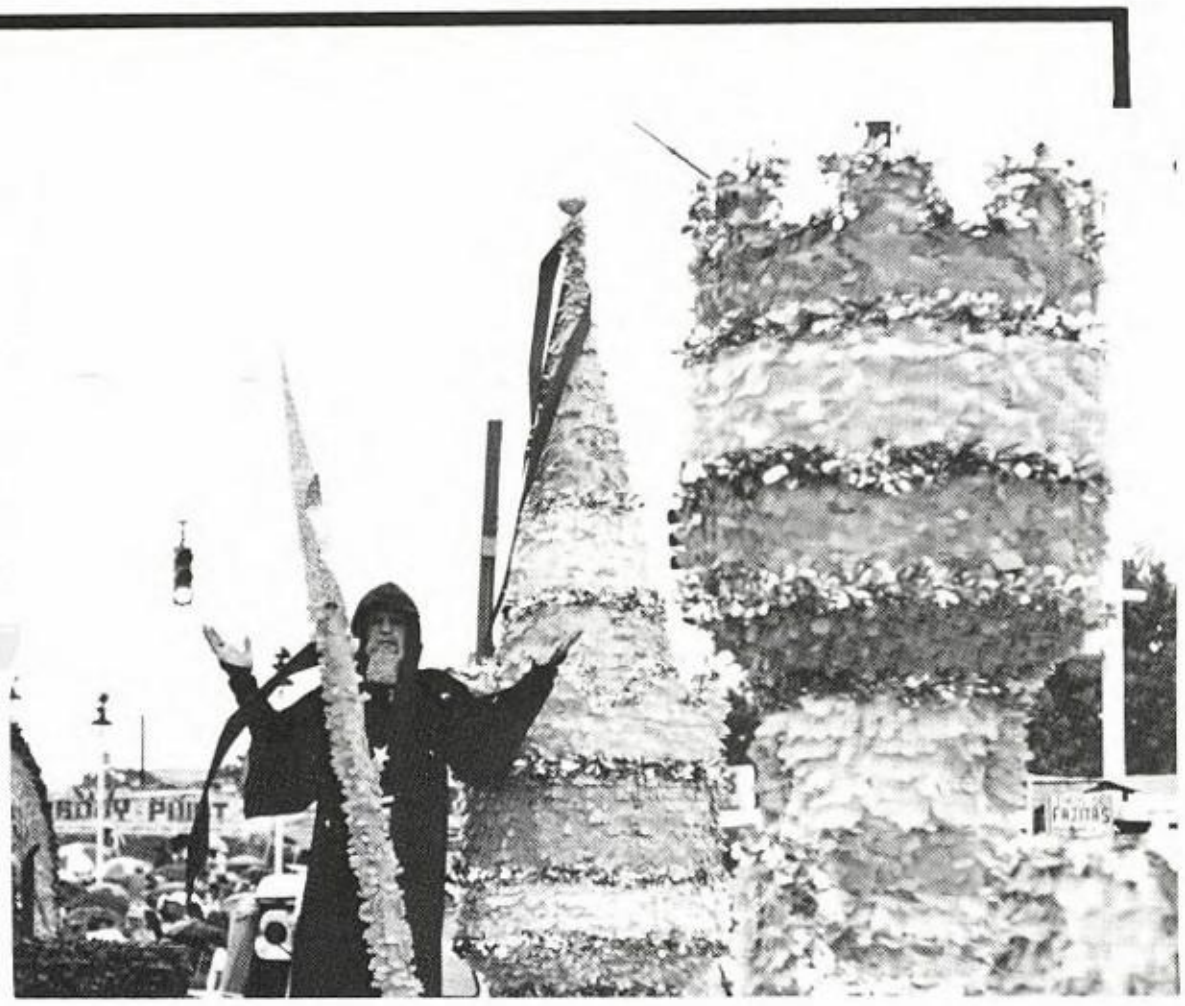
Fiesta '87 was an exciting event. This year the Fiesta spirit was evident around the school. As the Fiesta activities drew near, the students became restless and eager to have a good time.

Though the Battle of Flowers Parade was dampened by Mother Nature, spirits remained high. The JFK float entry in this year's parade was entitled "Camelot" and won second place in the public schools division. There were several members of each class riding on the float and all had a great time.



CAMELOT

"Let's get the show on the road!" exclaims Mike Collins to the rest of the crew.



"Let's see those pearly whites." says Michelle Mason to Mike Collins while Robert Garcia practices.

"So I used the wrong potion, we needed the rain!" exclaims Rick Pharr.

THEME WINS SECOND PLACE

"Come on girls, just 20 miles left to go!" exclaims Lucie Sanchez to the rest of the squad.

1987 PROM

April 24, 1987 will be a day to remeber in more ways than one. Although the start of the day brought perenial April showers to soak the band, cheerleaders, and parade float at the Battle of Flowers Parade, it did not damper the spirits of the students. As a concession to them, the rains stopped in time for the long awaited Jr-Sr Prom that evening.

The prom was held at the elegant Hyatt Regency Hotel located on our beautiful riverwalk. It was truly a "Classic Affair" complete with valet parking, glittering chandeliers, and top hats. Music was provided by the Infinity Band, who rendered a variety of enjoyable tunes both old and new.

Many of the students went all out for this occasion, and it proved to be well worth it. Beginning at 8:00 p.m., guests arrived in everything from linousines and a Rolls Royce, to simple cars and trucks. On entering the ballroom. The lack of traditional decoration was very evident. But upon second notice, the elegance of the room, with it's chandeliers, table cloths, and candles, everyone agreed the decor was very suited to the occasion. Tasty hor d'oevres were available during the evening, and couples could enjoy a stroll through the elegant hotel.

A tip of the top hat goes to the juniors for giving the seniors such a terrific prom and a day to remember. They proved once again that they, indeed, did HAVE IT ALL.

JUNIOR RING CEREMONY

Year after year, juniors on campus anxiously await the moment they are to receive their class rings. And this year was no exception. The Ring Ceremony proved to be a moving event for the juniors involved and also for their parents. A few tears were shed as the rings were slipped on their fingers and the class song "We've Only Just Begun" was sung. And there was not a dry eye in the house as the Senior Class presented the banner to the new Class of '88.

Guest speaker for the ceremony was former student Mr. Daniel Juarez. Mr. Ralph Pairon blessed the rings and gave the benediction which concluded the traditional ceremony.

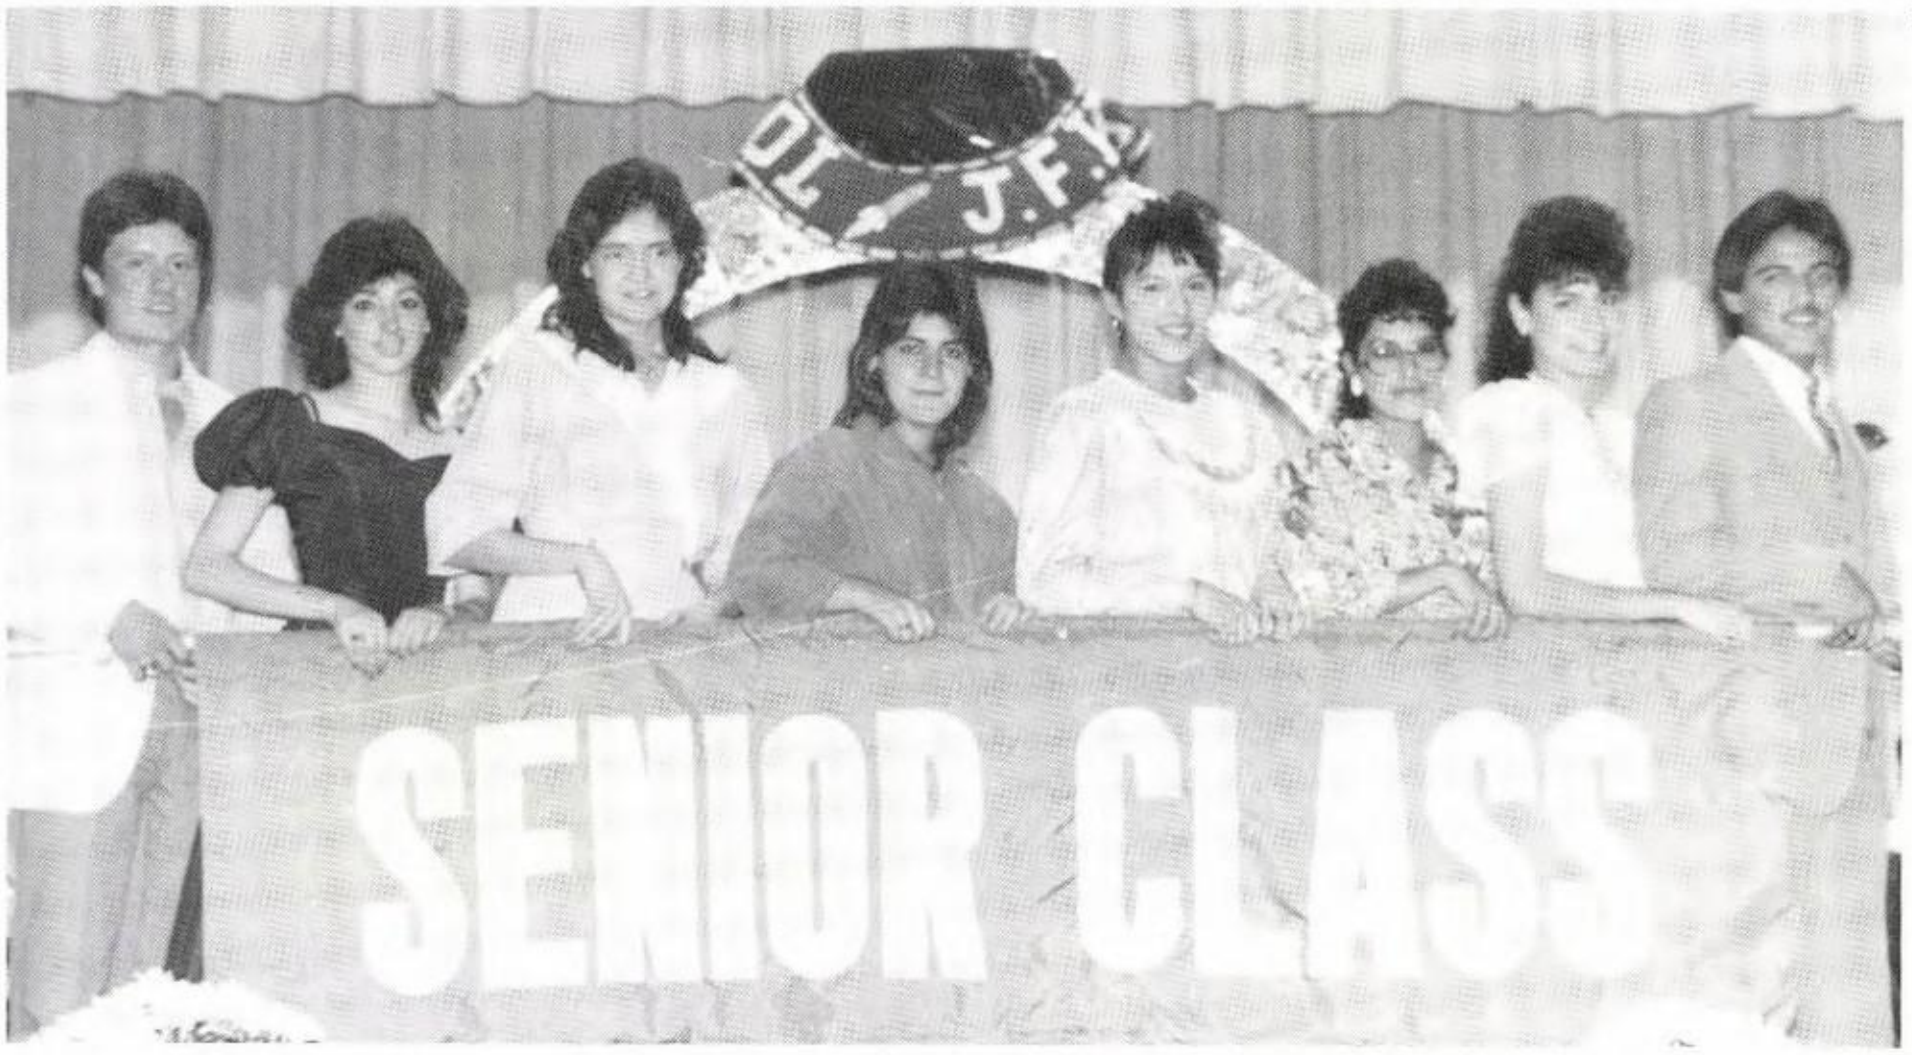
The traditional candle lighting is performed by the '87 and '88 classes.

The new Senior Class exchanges congratulations.

The soon-to-be Senior Class listens attentively to Mr. Daniel Juarez.

"Will you just give us the rings," says Regina Benavides.

STILL FAVORED TRADITION



Juniors proudly display the class banner and hope that they can live up to their new responsibility.

"You're supposed to smile," mumbles Brenda Garza to her parents.

"Maybe some record producer is here and we'll become famous, and we'll make lots of money, and . . ." theorizes Norma Contreras as Laura Montalvo sings.

A WET, WILD, AND WICKED WHIRL-WIND

After months of investigation, the Contra affair came to court. It was now being dubbed The Contra Gate. On May 18, an American naval vessel was attacked in the Persian Gulf by Iraq.

On campus, one of our own seniors, Denise Gutierrez, was crowned Miss Junior Texas, and the seniors prepared for their annual trip to Six Flags. They departed at 6:30 a.m. for a day of excitement.

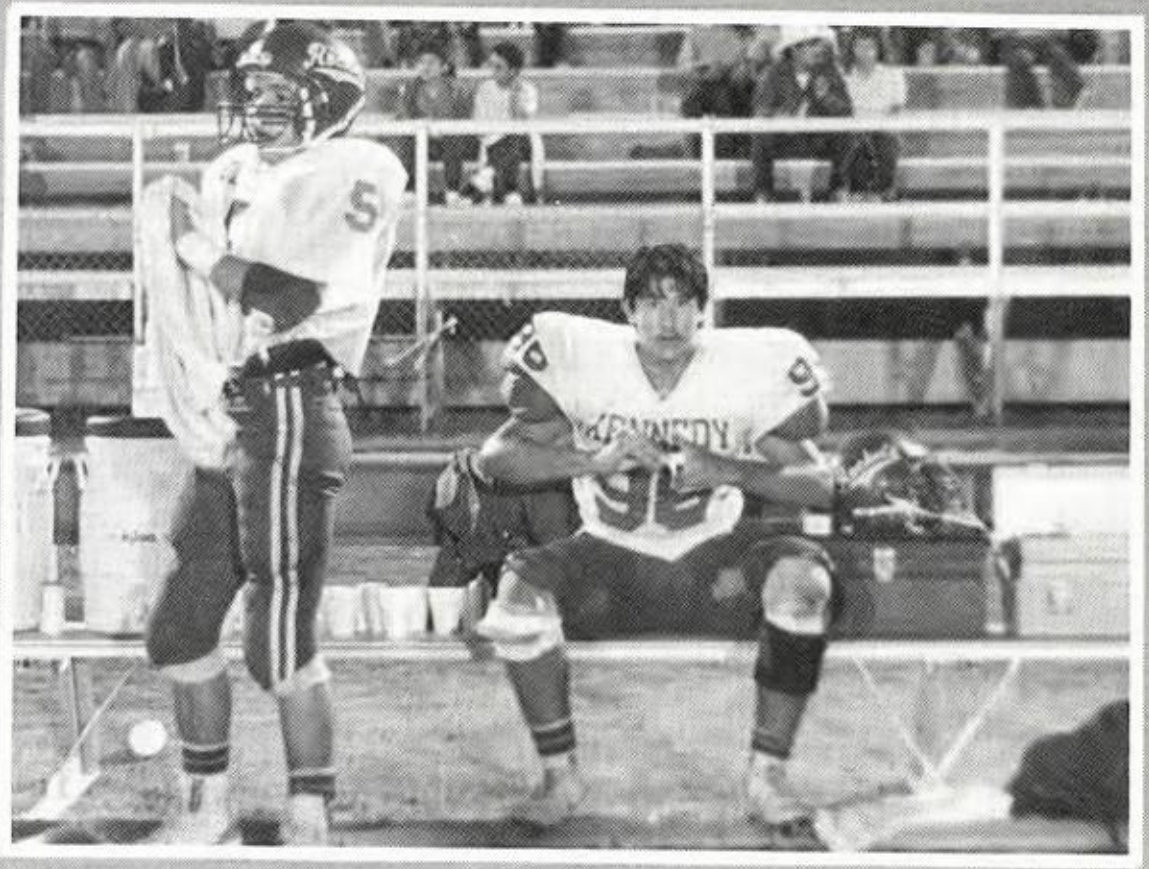
SPORTS ACTION



An Athlete -----
striving to succeed, working as a team
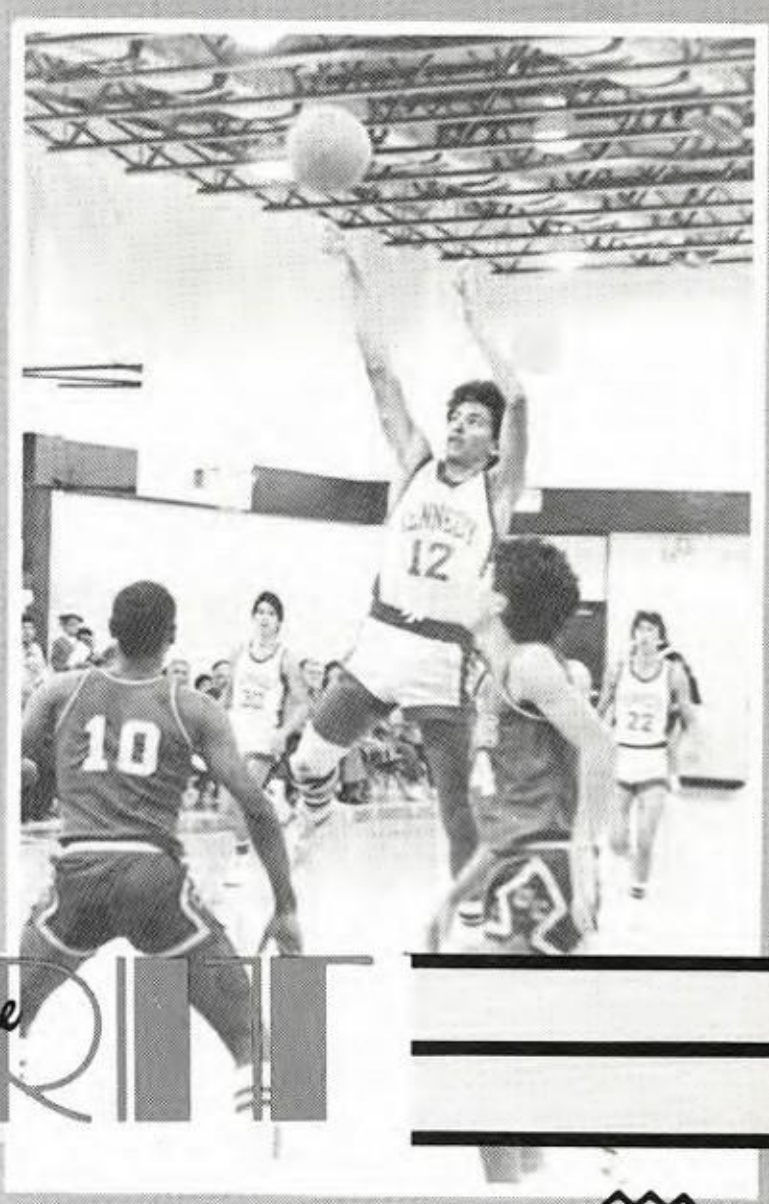
running, jumping, playing,
yearning for tomorrow
and hoping that someday
they will win it all.



We Have SPIRIT

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The 1986 football season proved to be a good one despite many setbacks placed on the Rockets.The season began well as they tied one of the best schools in their new class 14-4A, Sam Houston. As the season continued, the Mighty Rockets proved they could keep up with any challengers. Although not every game was won, the season ended with a feeling of accomplishment. One observer had the priviledge of watching each of them prepare for the game ahead.

The team would arrive at school early and spend their time watching sport films. As the day advanced, each member relaxed in his own way, some by sitting in a chair and listening to music, others by sleeping on the floor and hugging thier pillows. Later in the afternoon, the parent boosters prepared a meal which the athletes would consume to the last crumb.

It was observed that in many ways they acted like children with the coach as "Daddy". At times some of them refused to take the large yellow pills which were distributed to prevent cramps during the game, while others complained about being taped too tight or not tight enough.

Their complaints were easily settled by reffering them to "Daddy", Coach Martinez. By the time the game began, they were more than prepared for anything that came their way.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Micheal Collins looks for an opening in the line.

Even though the Junior Varsity season began with a shortage of players, it did not deter the team from having a moderately passable season. The lack of players was rough on the team, but success came when a few freshmen were incorporated into the team. Although it was a first time for these beginning players, they showed considerable determination. According to Mr. Flores, coach for the year, the players who showed the greatest potential were: Armando Gutierrez, defensive quarterback, and Danny Lawson, defensive lineman.

After an average football season last school year, the Freshmen Football team fought back with tremendous force.

According to Coach Flores, the best athlete was Stephen De la Rosa. He kept up with all the plays and never missed the time to take advantage of opportunities. Most improved athlete, Armando Gutierrez, at first struggled, but by season's end had improved dramatically. Of all the athletes, the one selected as the lead player was Danny Lawson. It was his responsibility to choose and lead some of the scoring plays. He often helped in the motivation of the team during rough times.

These key players instilled a sense of pride in their fellow team members, which led them on to a more productive year.

TEAM VOLLEYS INTO ACTION

The Rocket Volleyball teams showed a great amount of enthusiasm this year. The move to class 14-4A gave them the advantage of playing teams better suited to them. Competition on this level was a more suitable and challenging effort.

The Varisty team ended their season with seven victories, Junior Varsity also completed seven wins and the Freshmen team finished just as well. Next season shows promising success with several of the players returning for another year of victories. Hopefully the 1987 season will be a good one for our female athletes.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Varsity Basketball team started the season well. They had numerous practices and used what little resources they had in the beginning. At first, practices were held at Kennedy Park while the gym was being repaired.

These practices helped lead them to hold the most victories in the E.I.S.D. In fact, beating Edgewood in overtime set them off to the T.M.I. (Texas Military Institute) Finals, where they took second place and did better than many other schools.

OUTSTANDING SEASON

Mr. McWilliams's first year of coaching the JV Basketball team proved to be a winning experience for him. According to the coach, the most outstanding players were: Roger Rodriguez, the 3-point specialist, and Danny Reyes, the defensive specialist. But regardless, all the players were outstanding.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Team Member Makes All-District

Sophomore Elsa Flores brought honor to her team by making all-district honorable mention this year. A second year member of the team, she will be returning again next year. In fact, most of the team will be returning since the majority is made up of underclassmen.

The group showed a tremendous amount of team work throughout the season. "All the girls work as a team, everyone relying on each other," stated Basketball Coach Laura Fisher. This combination of team work is necessary in any sport in order for them to succeed.

Looking to the future, Coach Fisher exclaimed, "they're not quitters. That's the best part!"

TRACK TEAMS SPRINT

The cross country and track season ended with good results this year. Arthur Moreno and Jesse Vasquez qualified for the cross country regionals. Jess Vasquez also made regionals for track team. The boys team consisted of several runners, a relay team, and a shot putter.

The girls' season went just as well, having a relay team, two long jumpers, one of which also competed in the triple jump and the high jump. Shot putter Debbie Narvaez received the most valuable player award for her efforts on the field and also received several medals and ribbons in the various meets. Denise Haynes also made the girls regionals for the 100 meter dash. In the long run, both teams had a good show on the track.

THIRD GOOD YEAR FOR SOCCER

For the third consecutive year, the soccer team finished the season with a full roster of good athletes. Determination stayed with the athletes throughout the season and provided some very valuable players. According to Coach Ramirez, Ernest Watson and Sammy Esparza made great improvements in their speed and scored a lot of goals. While Jesus Chavez was notable for blocking a large amount of the opponents goals, Joshua Garcia was singled out as the key player on the defensive team.

All in all, the team had another great year.

This year, girls varsity and J.V. Soccer were combined for the season. Even though the girls had tough competion, they still made it to district. Most of the team members were first year players, and because of this, they were put under a lot of pressure, playing against girls with more experience. But they came through the season with flying colors.

It was a definite challenge to these new members, but they were able to keep their winning record for the third year in a row.

Special tribute goes to the Coaches, Mrs. Marie Sanchez and Mrs. Sengenbusch for their inspiration and hard work. They again proved that the Girls Soccer does indeed have what it takes.

Ilene cheers Michelle's slick steal of the ball.

WINS DISTRICT TITLE

The sport of the rich it has been called, but it's alive and doing well at JFK. Even though our team has not made it to finals or received national acclaim, it has shown a determined drive to succeed. The team consisted of very valuable players, who put their best effort into the game, winning third place at the West Campus Tournament. Kathy DelaVega placed second in the same tournament and first place in district. Armando Escobar and Richard Muñoz led with a first place win in the boys doubles at West Campus.

With the help of Mr. Rey Padilla, their coach for a number of years, the team progressed noticeably during the year. Mr. Padilla plays and teaches the sport with a sense of flare and finesse punctuated occasionally by a few French expletives. But his dedication to the school for the past seventeen years, is to be commended. He has made the Kennedy Tennis team one to be reconned with in the future.

This year, the varsity baseball team began their season well, winning fourth place at a tournament at Clemens High School. The team consisted of seven seniors, six juniors, and a few sohomores.

As in all the other sports, the move to class 14-4A gave the athletes inspiration and an insentive, since they had a better chance at competition.

Lorenzo Villarreal served as captain of the team playing in the short stop position, and Robert Rocha was chosen as one of the top five pitchers in our district. All other members served different positions throughout the season.

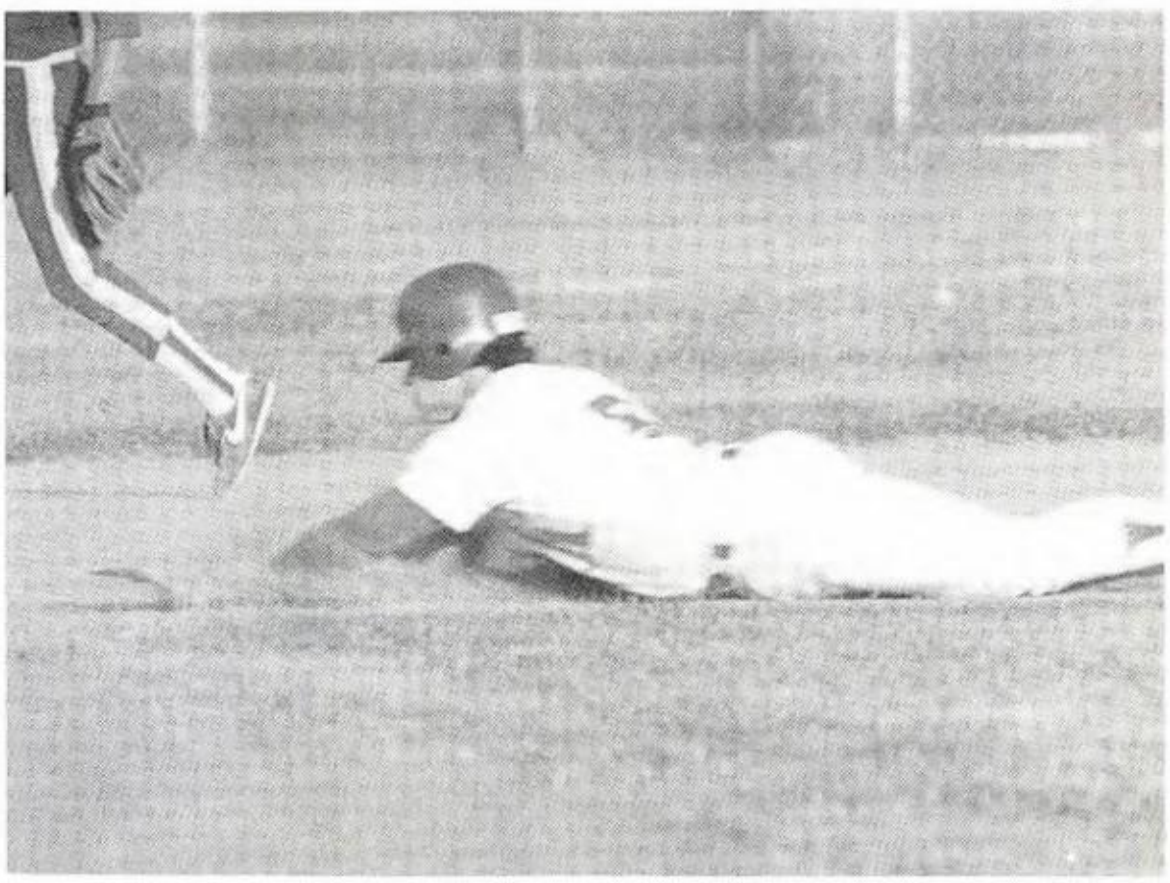
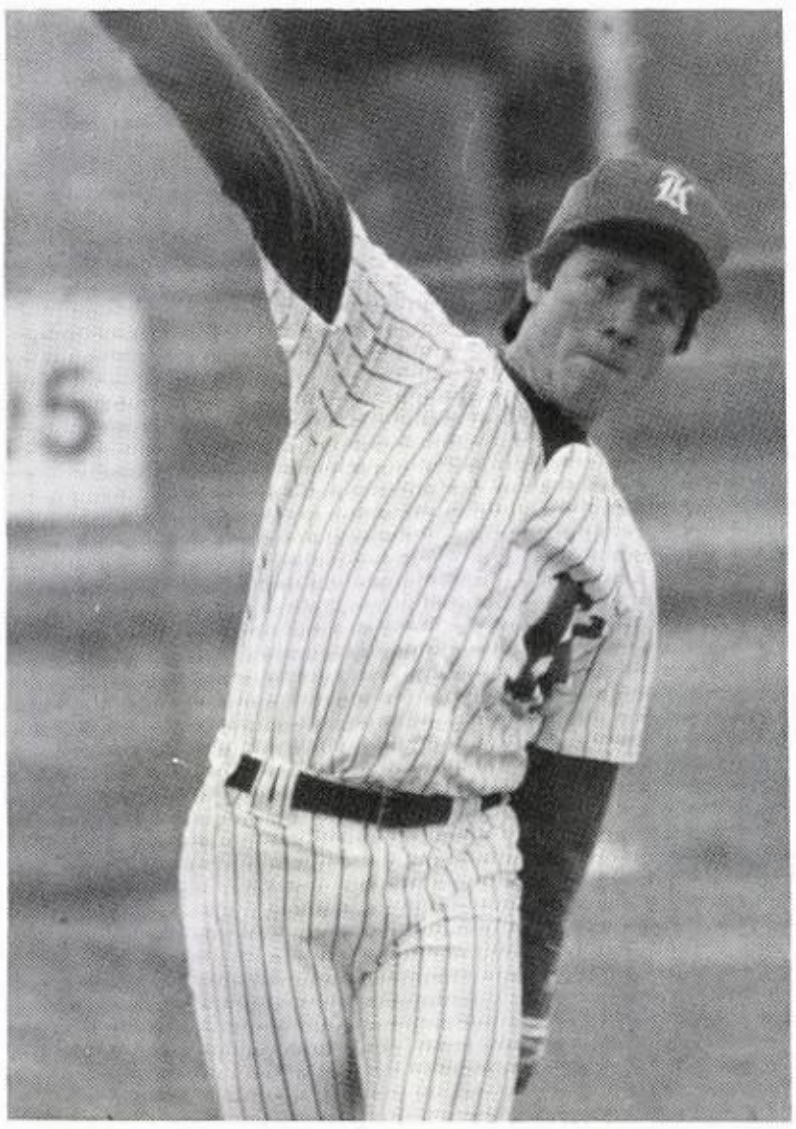
Ernest Carranza watches the opponent attempt a left field hit.





"I should have kept my mouth shut!" exclaims Lorenzo Villarreal.

"I wonder if this is the right signal?" thinks Darrell Villarreal.

J. V. BASEBALL

Center Left: Adam Villareal watches for that crucial signal to start the play.

Center Right: "If I give him my Clint Eastwood stare and Jim Palmer stance, with a little luck I might strike him out," analyses Ralph Duran.

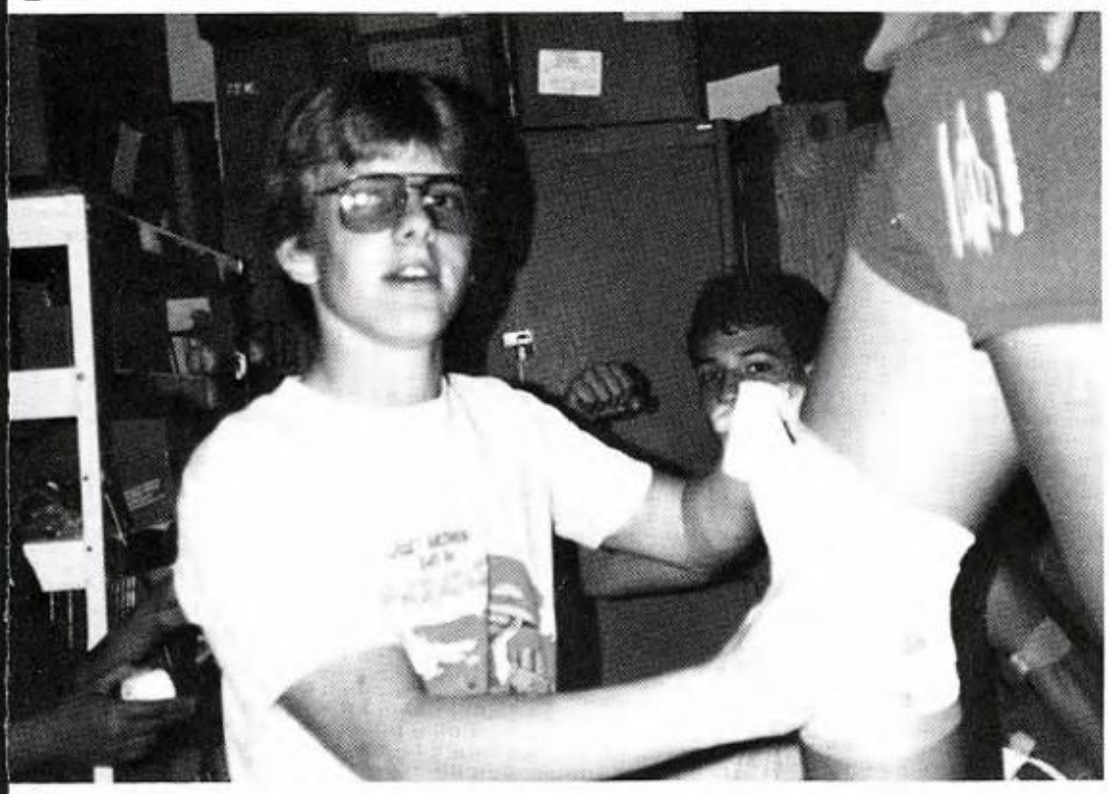
T.N.T. TEAM DYNAMITE



From the football field to the baseball diamond, in rain or sunshine, the most common call for assistance is "trainer." No matter the injury, these people see to them all. Helping athletes is their main goal. From a simple ankle sprain to the more serious head concussion, it is truly an endless job.

This year marked the first time that the school had a group of student trainers who helped during the year. The two girls, Terri Almaraz and Terry Galdeano, and the one male, Nick Rish, were involved in working with every athlete and did a tremendous job.

Special recognition goes to this dynamite trio for their dedication and devotion to the athletes on our campus.

At Left: "If you don't hold the tape in place, the knee might break," asserts Nick Rish.

Bottom Left: "Maybe if I tape it well enough, it won't stink as much," hopes Terri Almaraz.

The Indespensible T.N.T. Team, Terri Almaraz, Nick Rish, and Terry Galdeano.

We Have LEADERSHIP

THE 1987 UNIVERSE STAFF

The 1987 yearbook staff got off to a great start this year. Beginning in late August the staff got together to plan for the annual publication of the Universe. Cover design, type styles, graphic designs, and basic layout arrangements were completed once the theme had been selected. As the first week of school rolled around, the staff was busy preparing for their sales campaign. "Save the Universe" was the slogan of a desperate staff determined to reach their quota of sales, and to prove again that they Have It All!

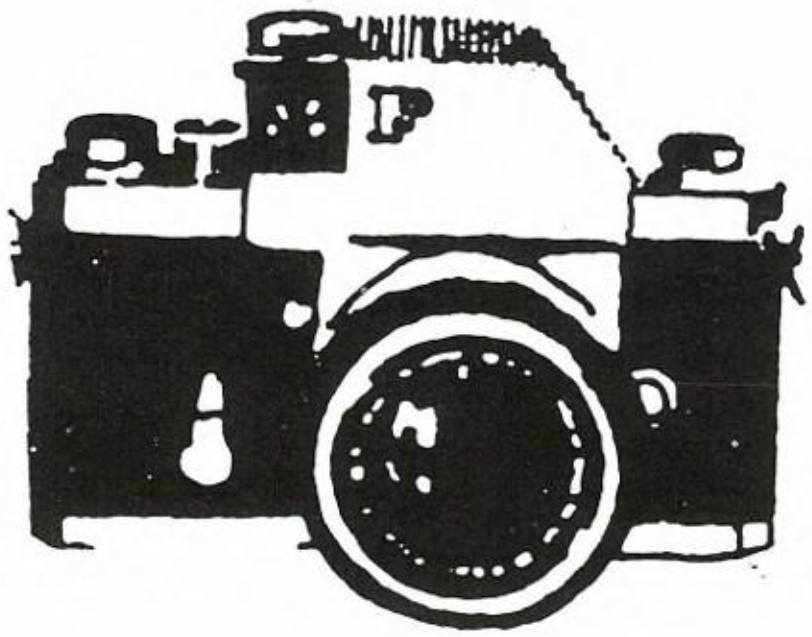
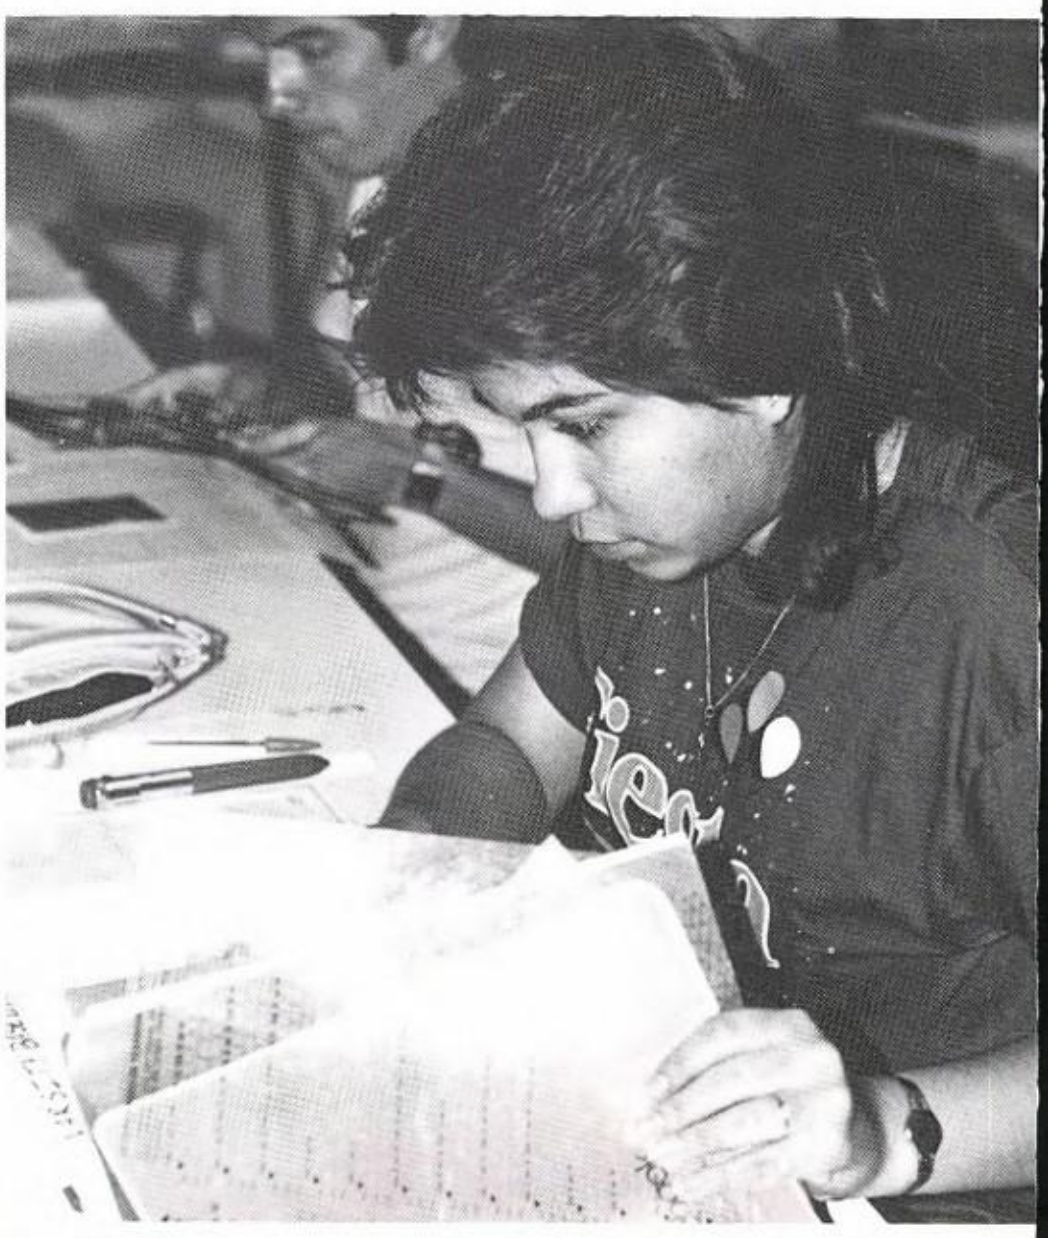
Top right: "I'll pretend I'm busy so Ms. Cabrera won't yell at me," confesses Norma.

At right: Terri goes into shock as she realizes her copy is due in half an hour.





Top left: Pricilla instructs Sixto and Lucinda on the use of the camera. The question is, does she know how to use it?

OFFICE EDUCATION

Every year, for the past ten years, the Office Education Association has participated in the Special Olympics. High schools from all over San Antonio raised as much money as they could, and all in pennies. The high schools compete in games such as the three-legged race and tug-of-war. The school with the most money wins a trophy, and the minor game winners receive ribbons.

This year John F. Kennedy collected $204.50 in pennies. The Special Olympics took place at Brakenridge Park on November 22, 1986. The total collected from all the schools was $3009.16.

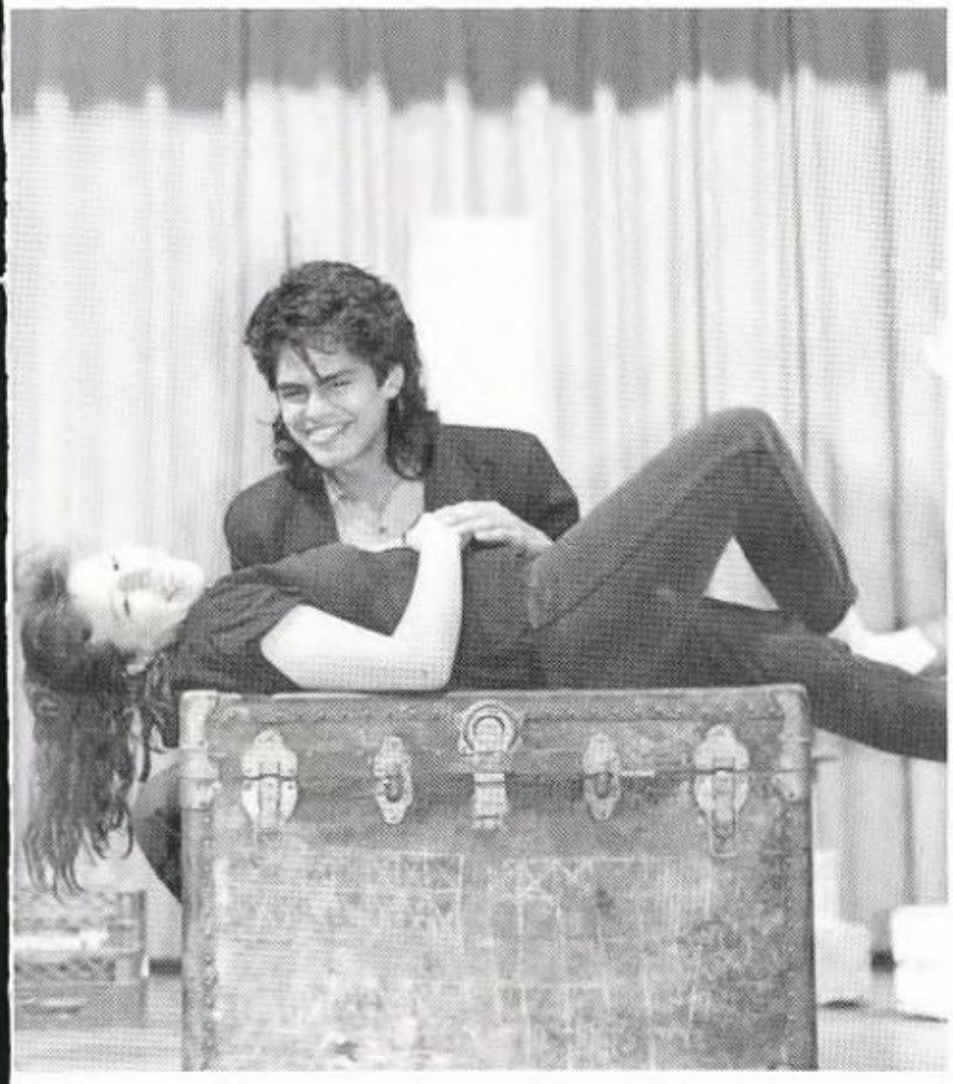
The Drama Club was very productive this year, and their success can be attributed to Ms. Lucero, their sponsor.

The group demonstrated their talent during the production of the play, Juvie. It was an exciting presentation. All the students enrolled in the class were able to participate in the play. While some of the students performed in the play, others were involved as crew members who were responsible for building the props and any other work behind the curtain.

The production involved reherasals everyday, settings on and off stage, and finally the production itself. It was truly a great success.



Maria Benavides wakes after she receives a kiss from her prince, Rocky Ramirez.

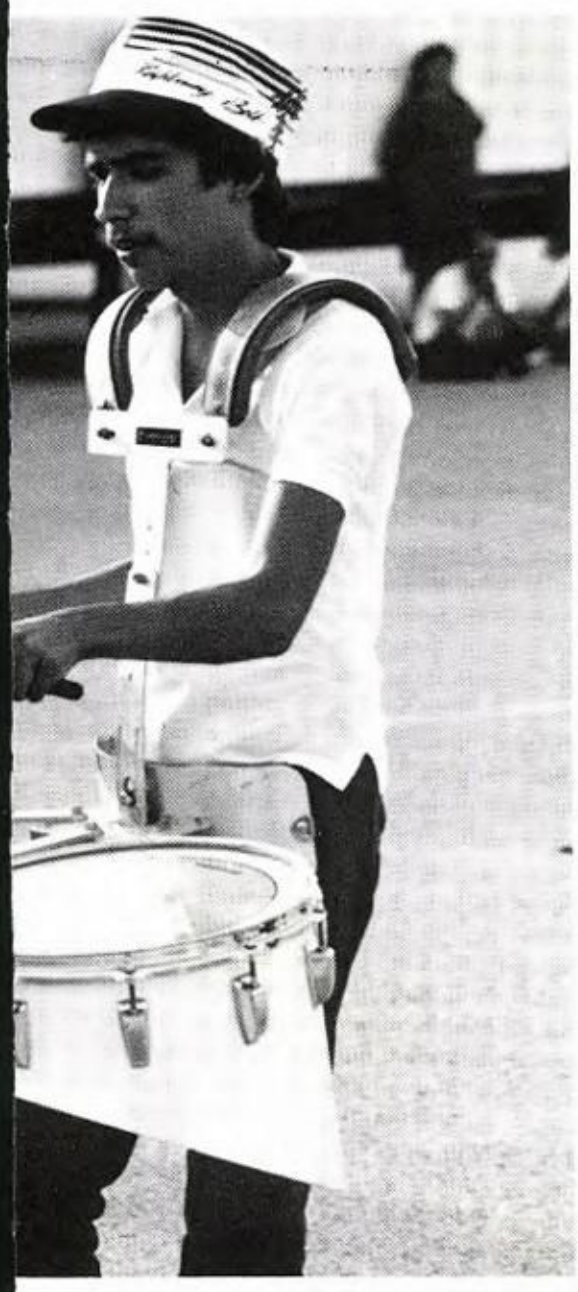
ROCKET BAND TOPS



The Band prepares for inspection prior to a game night performance.

Below: Band performs at the Battle of Flowers Parade.

The Mighty Rocket Band has once again lived up to its reputation as a winning team and brought home numerous awards received in various performances.

In September, the band displayed it spirit and showmanship by performing for enthusiastic fans at football games. During this season they competed against other schools in the IA division "Drums Along the Medina" field show and took first place.

The fall season saw the band performing at the "Mijito Concert", a special event honoring the parents of members. During the festive holiday season of Christmas, the group again performed, and presentation of band jackets to seniors was the highlight of the evening.

The new year introduced the band to another area of competition, the "Alamo Tournament of Bands." This time the group came away with a second place in the masters class.

In April they participated in the Rey Feo Parade, the Band Festival, The Battle of Flowers Parade, and the Flambeau Night Parade. There were many sore feet, numb limps, and tired bodies but the spirit was tremendous.

The Spring Concert brought a finale to the band's major activities for the year. At this time, the new drum major and officers for the following year were announced. But special tribute should be given to the band director, Mr. Badrack; and Drum Major Albert Salinas, and Assistant Drum Major Michelle Mason. They did a great job and showed that THEY HAVE IT ALL!

BUILDING CHARACTER

Be all you can be," the characteristic slogan used by the Army today, can truly express the objective of the JROTC program on campus. Twenty-two year veteran, Col. Norman Tempio, has been expanding on this philosophy during his long career as a military instructor. Since his days as an instructor at the University of Texas, he has striven to instill deep values in his students, making better citizens and leaders, and teaching them to adjust to others is his goal.

Students enrolled in this program have an advantage that many do not realize. Those students who pursue a military career after graduation receive a number of benefits, among them high pay, higher rank, and the opportunity for extensive travel.

Although only thirty five percent of the students enrolled in our school go into military service, the majority of them have benefited from the high school program. Assisting in the instruction of this program is another Army veteran, Sgt. Norvil Cupp.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT FOCUS

The Student Government at John F. Kennedy is made up of the senate, the house of representatives, and five justices sponsored by Mr. U Martinez.

Among one of the many projects that our Student Government was directly involved in was the restoration of our mighty rocket. With the assistance of Mr. Acosta, a McDonalds franchise owner, the majority of the materials needed were provided for the school. The rocket received a new coat of paint and a new pattern on its exterior. A beautiful granite wall, with the portrait of the school's namesake, John F. Kennedy, was added to the rocket, and the area around the rocket was also relandscaped. The rocket looks beautiful. It was a lot of work, but the members were satisfied with the finished product.

SCIENCE CLUB ADVENTURES

The Science Club was actively involved in Science-UIL activities and held the responsibility of maintaining a beautifully clean ecology area. The club consists of ten active members and it's sponsor, Mr. Abel Gonzales.

Among one of the many activities that the Science Club engaged in was an outing to Pedernales State Park.

On arriving at the park, the members of the club decided that they wanted to go siteseeing. And what's the best way to do this, but to go hiking. It appeared easy enough at first but, unfortunately for them, they met with somewhat of a different destiny.

What at first looked to be a seven mile hike, turned into fourteen tiring miles. They never took into consideration the fact that they could get lost.

At the same time, mother nature decided to have some fun and allowed it to rain. The fear of being cold and wet, and the astonishment of actually making it back did not dampen their spirits. It was very exciting, to say the least, for everyone involved.

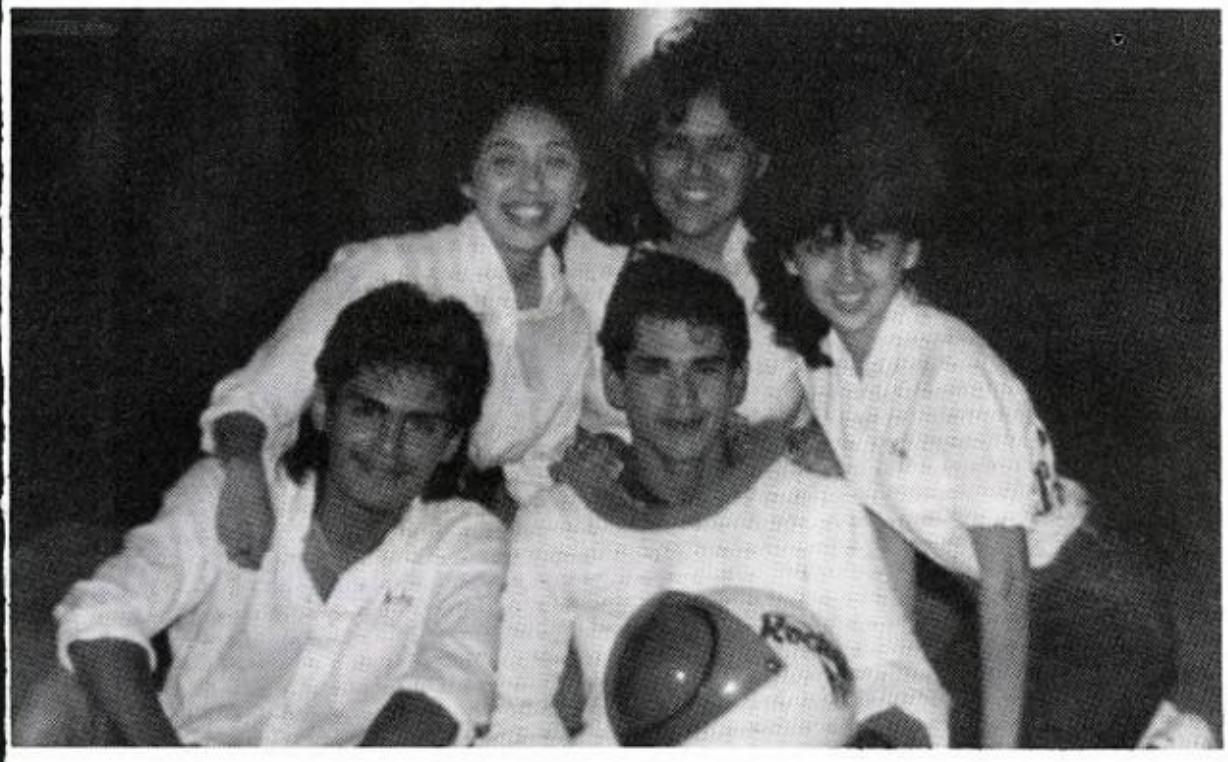
SPIRIT SQUAD

AT THEIR BEST

Fan Favorite Launched

The Spirit Squad had a great year regardless of its up and downs. The year differed a little with the addition of Orbit, the mascot, who was a crowd pleaser and a favorite with Rocket fans. The squad took pride in launching their newest member. Orbit first made his debut this year at the Southwest game in which Mr. U. Martinez, sponsor, received the initial honor of wearing the mascot costume. Several people had the priviledge of being the popular mascot, but it was James Sanchez who conquered the hearts of all. He proved to be the most spirited Orbit yet. Rocket fans can count on seeing Orbit again, since the squad had adopted him permanently.

Our Spirit Squad has proved to all again that when it comes to spirit, They Have It All!



Lucy Sanchez shows off her biceps to Rocket fans during one of the football pep rallies.

Orbit instructs canine friend in cheering tactics.

Aztronutz Rocky Ramirez, Jeanne Muñoz, Sandra Sampayo, and Laura Montalvo take time out to congratulate James Sanchez on his entertaining roll as Orbit.

Spirit Squad marches onto field to lead the cheers for their favorite team.

SPIRIT SQUAD PROVES SURVIVOR

It can certainly be said that this year's Spirit Squad had the determination it takes to produce a winner. Dedication to their school, team members, and fans lead them on to another surviving year. At pep-rallies the squad proved to be the loudest, at football games the most spirited, and at parades the sharpest.

Although the squad is small in numbers, they have proved to be survivors. Because of the dedication of its members, the squad continues to be the moving force behind the spirit in our school. With such dedicated people as Head Cheerleader Chris Torres, who has given endless hours to planning dance routines, and generally being responsible for the squad, the team has been able to display their talents and have given some great performances.

First Row: Amanda Ortiz, Janet Martinez, Lupe Salgado. Second Row: Ginger Martinez, Rosema Quintero, Lucy Sanchez, Eric Valdez, Letty Mendiola, Ilene Reyna, Ann Marie Soriano, Nelda Lozar Yvonne Valdez, Anna Diaz.

N.H.S. members pay close attention during the installment exercises.

"Wow! I've made it this far now all I have to do is make it down the stairs," worries Mathew.

Robert Garcia wonders if he should burn his award or not.

P.E.L.E. CHRISTMAS PARTY

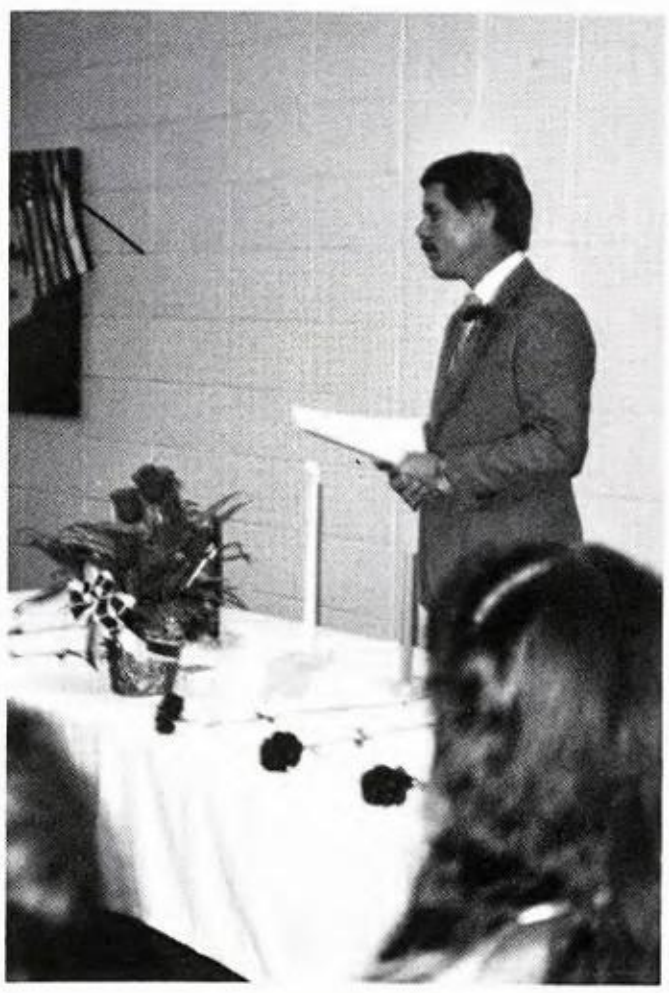
Throughout the year, P.E.L.E has been actively involved in working with young children. The Pre-Employment Laboratory Education class is made up of seventeen active group members. It's sponsor is Mrs. Hackworth.

One of the many activities that they had this year was the childrens' Christmas party. This festive day began when the children from preschool arrived for class. They were entertained for a while by coloring, pasting, and cutting Christmas figures.

Following this activity, they were taken to the homemaking department where they had warm chocolate and doughnuts.

Besides being very excited about being out of class, the children were looking forward to meeting with Santa Clause.

Everyone knew Santa had arrived, not by actually seeing him, but by the excitement in the childrens' eyes. The children were given gifts, and they sang songs with Santa Clause. It turned out to be an enjoyable day for both adults and children.



Top: "Boy, it's fun being Santa! I hope they don't pull my beard," says Ruben.

Center: Mrs. Hackworth patiently awaits a child's reaction.

Bottom Right: "Things would really go badly for me if I burned this speech," worries Mr. Nicholson.

MEETS WITH SUCCESS

Center Right: "You're lucky I'm in a good mood, otherwise I'd cast a spell on you," proclaims Chris.

Jim,

You are like my brother. I will always remember the times we have gone out together, and the crazy sense of humor you have. I wish you the best, and I will never forget how you have always been there for me. Your friendship will always mean a great deal to me. Take care.

Love Always,

1987

Cecy,

You are my very best friend, and you have been for a very long time. We have shared many memories that regular friends could never share. There were some rough times in our friendship, but we have shown, and I will survive through everything that comes our way.

Take care

If memories are to be treasured, then so should a yearbook, for it is a record of all those memories that make up the most important years in a person's life --- high school. And if this yearbook is to be treasured, it is due to the efforts of a hard working staff.

Beginning in late August, the staff met to organize and plan the 1987 Universe. The theme was decided, the type style selected, and the cover was designed. By the start of the school year, the staff was busy organizing their sales campaign.

Producing and printing photographs was another area in which many hours of the day were spent. After 200 roles of film, 2,000 sheets of printing paper, and approximately 60 gallons of chemicals, the photographers on the staff earned their "wings." Special commendation goes to Editor Mirna Montalvo for her endless hours spent in the darkroom. These were times when she never saw the light of day.

The printing of the yearbook was done by Josten's American Yearbook Company of Topeka, Kansas. A special thanks to Mr. Chuck Whatley for the endless hours he spent advising the staff.

The Universe Staff consisted of seventeen members, and a sponsor who all worked hard to produce the 204 pages of the yearbook.
